Day 2 - 13.30 - 15.00: Parallel Sessions 3
Parallel Session 3.1: Creating, Strengthening and Sustaining National Youth Workers' Associations Venue: ZK Mathews Hall Chair: Robyn Broadbent, College of Education, Victoria University, Australia At the foundations of a successful professionalising process lies the collective strength of organized youth work practitioners participating in defining the parameters and quality of the practice of their profession, including advocating for professional recognition, providing inputs into directions in the education and training of youth workers and assuring the quality of training, practice and supervision. This session looks at ways in which organized youth workers have paved the way to ensure good practice and advocate for the professionalising of the sector.	Parallel Session 3.2: Promoting Evidence-Based Youth Work Practice Venue: Senate Hall Chair: Shantelle Weber, Lecturer, University of Stellenbosch, South Africa How successful has the youth work sector been as an evidence-based profession investing in research on the theory and practice of youth work and the impact of practice on young people? This session looks at research into youth work practice, and ways of defining outcomes for young people. The session will be of interest to those wishing to mainstream research and development in the youth work profession thereby enabling professionals to engage in evidence-based practice and demonstrate the impact of youth work on young people to policy makers.	Parallel Session 3.3: Youth Empowerment through Youth-Led Organizations Venue: Miriam Makeba Hall Chair: Tshepo Morabane, MA Student, Tshwane University of Technology, South Africa Youth-led organizations are key to enhancing youth leadership and self-esteem, and for ensuring that young people participate in organizational and programme decision-making at all levels. Youth-led organizations have also been historically instrumental in reaching more young people through relevant, fun and engaging activities as young people know young people's interests, concerns and challenges best. This session looks at examples of youth-led organizations, and the difference the youth-led nature of the work makes on peer youth workers as well as the young people they reach.
