COMMONWEALTH YOUTH AWARDS 2021

Wednesday 10 March 2021
10.00 am – 11.00 am (GMT)
Virtual Ceremony: Livestream – Facebook.com/ComSecYouth

The Commonwealth Youth Programme
The Commonwealth Youth Awards for Excellence in Development Work aim to recognise the contribution young people aged 15-29 make towards promoting and enhancing democracy and achieving the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It raises the profile of committed and innovative Commonwealth youth who are working hard to address pressing issues such as poverty and conflict.

The Commonwealth believes that this work should not go unnoticed, and our Youth Awards give international, regional and national recognition and support to men and women who are shining examples of young people’s capacity and potential to make positive contributions to their communities, nations and the world at large.

The Awards show that our youth are not passive beneficiaries or spectators of the policies and programmes that drive development. Rather, they are actively involved in catalysing and implementing change, and are integral to the decision-making process that will lead to a more innovative and interconnected future.
Specific objectives of the 2021 Commonwealth Youth Awards

• Highlight the contributions of young people are making to achieving the 2030 Agenda and the SDGs;
• Acknowledge the outstanding contributions young people make to Commonwealth development and democracy goals;
• Create an environment that will encourage and sustain investments in youth-led development;
• Illustrate the depth and breadth of talent, commitment and creativity that exists among young people across the Commonwealth by highlighting nominees’ success stories;
• Motivate, encourage and challenge young people (age 15-29) to set high standards for their work and service at community, national, regional and international levels; and
• Give particular focus to the contributions of young people towards development and prosperity in the context of the COVID-19 global pandemic.

Abdulrehman Alwy
Country: Kenya
Area of Work: SDG 3 – Good Health and Well-Being
Abdulrehman is a co-founder of ‘RedSplash Kenya’; an initiative creating awareness on the importance of voluntary blood donations and working to tackle misinformation around donating. The organisation hosts educational blood drives and operates an online app for donors to register and to send out appeals. The initiative has helped serve over 5000 patients in need, and recruited hundreds of volunteers to support their campaigns.

Wadi Ben-Hirki
Country: Nigeria
Area of Work: SDG 5 - Gender Equality
Wadi is the founder of the ‘Wadi Ben-Hirki Foundation’; an organisation which champions for the empowerment of marginalised groups in Nigeria. The foundation’s initiatives include donating food and education materials to Boko Haram victims, campaigns against child marriage and sexual violence and providing safe spaces for vulnerable girls and women. These projects have collectively impacted the lives of thousands across Nigeria.

Nawa Joe Silishebo
Country: Zambia
Area of Work: SDG 8 - Decent Work and Economic Growth
Nawa is a co-founder of ‘The Young Emerging Farmers Initiative’; which promotes and empowers young people in agribusiness and climate change action through skills training, fundraising and outreach programmes. The initiative has reached over 500,000 young people across 10 Zambian provinces in rural and urban areas and helped train 5000 youths in agribusiness, including connecting over 100 ‘agri-preneurs’ to financial support and markets.

Jeremiah Thoronka
Country: Sierra Leone
Area of Work: SDG 7 – Affordable and Clean Energy
Jeremiah is the founder of ‘Optim Energy’; a company that harnesses solar energy through innovative technology to create affordable, accessible and clear power for communities in Sierra Leone. The project has helped power over 150 households and 15 schools in Sierra Leone at minimal cost, which has benefitted over 10,000 people, and provides best practice training on energy efficiency and conservation to the younger generation.
Alina Alam
Country: India
Area of Work: SDG 8 – Decent Work and Economic Growth

Alina is the founder of ‘Mitti Café’; a chain of cafes which provides experiential training and employment to adults with physical, intellectual and psychiatric disabilities. The organisation’s outreach initiative also helps create awareness about inclusion and disability rights. Mitti Cafés have trained over 850 persons with disabilities and served over 5 million meals to vulnerable communities and homeless groups, including 1.3 million during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Syed Ommer Amer
Country: Pakistan
Area of Work: SDG 9 – Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure

Syed is the founder of Daastan; a modern book publishing company and go-to platform for global authors. The company uses a social enterprise model to support authors to monetise their time, content and skills through online training and workshops. Daastan has supported 10,000 authors from 17 countries and helped publish over 300 titles.

Faysal Islam
Country: Bangladesh
Area of Work: SDG 3 – Good Health and Well-Being

Faysal is a co-founder of ‘Safewheel’, an organisation that provides affordable emergency medical services through mini three-wheeled ambulances and trained medical staff onboard. The company’s current 10 ambulances have served over 1000 people in rural populations in Bangladesh at 1/10th of the cost and three times faster on average than convention ambulances.

Mogesh Sababathy
Country: Malaysia
Area of Work: SDG 14 – Life Below Water

Mogesh is a co-founder of ‘Project Ocean Hope’, a youth-led group that aims to raise the visibility of ocean issues and environmental conservation through campaigns and youth leadership training. COMMONWEALTH YOUTH COVID-19 HEROES

Vedika Agarwal (India)
Vedika is the founder of Yein Udaan, an NGO supporting marginalised families in rural Indian communities. During the lockdown, Yein Udaan has distributed food supplies worth over 216,000 meals, sanitation supplies to over 3000 families, educational kits to over 400 students and launched a virtual learning programme in six community libraries. They have also worked with doctors to tackle health misinformation.

Bilal Amjad (Pakistan)
Bilal is the founder of InstaCare; which launched a response unit to provide free online medical consultations to communities in Pakistan during the pandemic. Currently, over 300 doctors have provided over 10,000 consultations through the platform. InstaCare also partnered with private institutions to provide telemedicine services to the public including universities and hospitals.

Alexia Hilbertidou (New Zealand)
Alexia is the founder of GirlBoss New Zealand which empowers and equips young women to develop leadership and entrepreneurial skills. During the pandemic, Alexia launched GirlBoss Edge – a virtual career accelerator giving over 1000 women access to 1:1 leaders mentorship and career skills masterclasses, particularly Indigenous, Paska, low-income and rural women.

Dr Isaac Olufadewa (Nigeria)
Isaac is the founder of Slum and Rural Health Initiative (SRHIN). The SRHIN COVID-19 Project has translated COVID-19 health messages from the World Health Organization into over 100 languages, reaching over 1.5 million people. Isaac also launched an AI-driven app and chatbot offering thousands of young people access to comprehensive sexual and mental health information.

Dr Camir Ricketts (Jamaica)
Camir is the founder of MindsOf Initiative; a programme which increases young people’s access to career mentorship and S.T.E.A.M training opportunities. Camir co-launched an online app helping 100,000 people find their nearest COVID-19 testing sites, and raised $4000 USD in funds to purchase devices and mobile data for students affected by the pandemic.

Sukhmeet Singh Sachal (Canada)
Sukhmeet is a co-founder of Translations 4 Our Nations; an initiative which works with indigenous community members to create medically accurate and culturally-relevant COVID-19 information in indigenous languages. The programme has recruited over 140 indigenous translators to translate public health policy information into over 45 languages, reaching over 45,000 indigenous people.

Momin Saqib (UK)
In March 2020, Momin launched ‘One Million Meals’; an emergency response to the COVID-19 crisis. Led by volunteers, the programme has provided over 100,000 meals and beverages in over 200 locations to frontline key workers, NHS staff, homeless people and vulnerable families affected by the pandemic, including through 47 hospitals, trusts and food banks.

Kritz and Bianca Sciesseere (Australia)
Kritz and Bianca are founders of The Big Sister Experience; a social enterprise that provides online mentorship to empower young women and girls on life skills. During the pandemic, the programme has focused on face-to-face and online workshops to support over 5000 young girls dealing with isolation and as they return to on-campus learning.

Brent Alexander Scotland (Antigua and Barbuda)
Brent is the president of the Halo Foundation Generation Y; a national youth body supporting and empowering young people. The Foundation funded monthly groceries for vulnerable persons, and provides a support network to elderly communities isolated during the pandemic. The foundation has also hosted youth events on character building, mental health and suicide awareness.

Natalie Robi Tingo (Kenya)
Natalie is the founder of Msichana Empowerment Kuria; an organisation combating gender based violence and FGM, and empowering girls and women in Kenya. During the pandemic, the organisation set up a menstrual care bank to support girls in slum areas, and a community-based cash transfer programme to allow marginalised girls and young women access to funds and support.
The Commonwealth Youth Awards are sponsored and co-ordinated by the Commonwealth Youth Programme.

We engage and empower young people, provide thought leadership in youth development, and support governments, youth work professionals and young leaders to create policy and practice environments that help young people to fulfil their social, economic and political potential.

We encourage the effective participation of young women and men in development processes, and promote their engagement at all levels of decision-making, including with Heads of Government. We also showcase, celebrate and advance the capabilities and achievements of young people in driving democracy and development.

We place special emphasis on supporting youth-led initiatives, and giving young people a strong voice in decision-making processes. This includes convening youth forums at Commonwealth Heads of Government Meetings and ministerial summits, as well as technical assistance and support for national, regional and global youth networks.

These youth networks include:

- Commonwealth Youth Council
- Commonwealth Students Association
- Commonwealth Youth Peace Ambassadors Network
- Commonwealth Youth Climate Change Network
- Commonwealth Youth Human Rights and Democracy Network
- Commonwealth Youth Health Network
- Commonwealth Alliance of Young Entrepreneurs
- Commonwealth Youth Gender Equality Network
- Commonwealth Youth Sport for Development and Peace Working Group
- Commonwealth Children and Youth Disability Network
- Commonwealth Correspondents
- Commonwealth CommonTies Youth Diaspora Network

This June, hundreds of young leaders from across the globe are expected to meet in Kigali, Rwanda at the Commonwealth Youth Forum (CYF). Under the theme “Taking Charge of our Future” the meeting will give participants the opportunity to build cross-cultural connections and networks, debate the challenges facing young people, and agree effective youth-led initiatives, particularly in light of the global challenges created by the COVID-19 pandemic. Most importantly, the CFY will amplify the voices of young people, ensuring their ideas and perspectives influence decision makers at the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) and shape youth development policies.

The Forum is held biennially in the run-up to CHOGM, when leaders from the 54-member bloc meet to reaffirm their common values, address shared global challenges and agree strategies to create a better future for their citizens.

Building on progress since CHOGM 2018 in London, young leaders will focus on five sub themes:

1. Governance and Rule of Law;
2. Sustainability;
3. Youth;
4. Health; and
5. Technology and Innovation

The CYF agenda is developed by an international taskforce, made up of young leaders from across the Commonwealth.
