

The Commonwealth

Rule of Law Webinar Series:
COVID-19 and the Rule of Law

Promoting the Rule of Law in Commonwealth Small States during COVID-19

Tuesday 10 November 2020, 1800 to 1930 GMT

The webinar will focus on the specific challenges brought on by COVID-19 for Commonwealth Small States in promoting the rule of law. Panellists will discuss issues such as the business impact of COVID-19 on Small States and the need for legislative responses, access to justice, and the use of technology in the delivery of justice services. An exceptional panel of speakers will discuss how the impact on the rule of law has been experienced and how Commonwealth Small States have adapted and innovated.

Opening remarks

The Rt Hon Patricia Scotland QC, Secretary-General of the Commonwealth

Speakers

Justice Gillian Lucky, Judge, Supreme Court of Trinidad and Tobago

Justice Bernard S A Turner, Judge, Supreme Court of the Bahamas

Savalenoa Mareva Betham-Annandale, Attorney-General of Samoa

Sifiso M M Khumalo, Attorney General of Eswatini

Paula Llewellyn, Director of Public Prosecutions of Jamaica

Moderator

Professor Petra Butler, Faculty of Law, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand

Register your interest at

<https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/5470518260036207629>