Tackling Corruption Together - a conference for civil society, business and government leaders

On Wednesday 11 May 2016, global leaders from civil society, business and government who are championing the fight against corruption will gather for a major anti-corruption conference at Marlborough House in London.

Together, with our partners, Transparency International, Thomson Reuters, Omidyar Network, the Commonwealth Enterprise and Investment Council, The B Team, and ONE, we will encourage leaders to set out their commitments to:

- end impunity;
- prevent corruption;
- empower victims; and
- support activists.

This conference is taking place in an effort to bolster good governance and transparency and support sustainable development.

The conference precedes the London Anti-Corruption Summit on 12 May 2016.
